Brethren in Christ

People Sent

The greatest resource of the church is in the life of its people. While there are other assets which include talents, tools, time, and means, the Gospel is carried by those who have received it and found it meaningful in their own lives. For Brethren in Christ Missions to be understood, one must see a people, about 10,000 strong, sending several hundred of its number across the world to bear the message of Christ. Apart from these who are sent forth, the Missions program would have little significance.

WHY

The assignment to “go” comes not from the whims of enthusiasts nor from the vision of a master race. Rather, the Brethren in Christ take seriously Christ’s commission to go “into all the world.” They clearly recognize their limitations but, uniting as a fellowship of believers, they can and will obey Christ’s command until He comes.

WHERE

Just as the Apostle Paul was guided by the Spirit into specific fields of service, Brethren in Christ Missions seeks deliberately to discover the mind of the Spirit regarding fields in which we can best bear witness to Christ. Its missionaries are sent to Rhodesia, Zambia, India, Japan, Nicaragua, and to numerous parts of United States and Canada.

HOW

More than 180 congregations provide the means and support with prayer the sending out of these workers. The interest and enthusiasm of children and young people combined with the efforts of their parents and the prayers of their grandparents are integral parts of the sending forth of Brethren in Christ missionaries. Where the interest in Missions encompasses the broad spectrum of all age groups and all members of the congregation regardless of station in life, the dynamic for Missions witness multiplies. It is in such congregations that the local witness also grows.

WHO

Sixty-nine congregations sent the nearly 250 Mission workers who served during 1967 and 1968. In addition, more than 40 couples served in Mission Church and Extension Church pastorates. In every case a congregation had to be willing to give up a member so that the Gospel message could be sent. In doing this they learn that such loss of members is the price to pay for a growing ministry. Many could testify to the truth of Jesus’ words, “except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.”

Give of thy sons to bear the message glorious;
Give of thy wealth to speed them on their way;
Pour out thy soul for them in prayer victorious;
And all thou spendest Jesus will repay.
